Product description Product (stepping Sound Mat) is made of plastic foil with images of six animal figures on it. Attached to the mat is a "sound board" with a push button, which houses the acoustic effects and blinking lights. When pressure is applied to the black and white spot on the image of animals, a sound characteristic of the individual animal along with a blinking light is produced.

Risk type Injuries

Risk description On the basis of a functionality test (in shoes, socks and bare feet), the individual layers of the mat slide on each other, causing the upper foil to twist, which represents an undesired slip. Considering the character and design of the product and the age limit for its use (>12 months), the risk of injury as a result of a slip and subsequent fall can not be excluded while using the product.

Brand Unknown

Product description Glass and metal decorative oil lamp, square in shape in clear plastic box.Brand, type/number of model: Unknown.

Risk type Chemical

Risk description The sample of that product was submitted for testing and found to fail the following requirements of the standard: - wick guard not fitted, wick exposed; - filler cap not secure, a push fit glass tube; - oil leaked freely when lamp tipped over; - no labelling, including nothing about the danger of oil ingestion and what to do if it is accidentally ingested. This product poses a risk of poisoning that can occur following the ingestion of even small quantities of the oil used as fuel. A condition known as lipid pneumonia may be caused by the entry into a child’s lung by a very small quantity of the oil, as is likely in the event of aspiration following vomiting. Part of the lung may fill with fluid which may then become infected or turn to fibrous tissue. The short term effect is serious breathing difficulty that may result in death. The hazard recognition of this possibility is remote unless clear instructions and warnings are used. The risks associated with fire are obvious, and hazard recognition is good. This product does not comply with the relevant European Standard.
