Product	Baby monitoring device
Brand	REV
Type / number of model	DBS 1850, Art.- n°85994, EAN 4006341665690
Product description	The product is a baby monitor with an emitter, a receiver and a power supply plug.
Risk type	Electric shock
Risk description	The product poses a risk of electric shock because to reset the baby monitor, a button must be pressed. This button is located underneath the antenna cavity in a hollow and can only be pressed using a fine-tipped instrument. If the monitor is reset while connected to the power supply, the tip used to reset it can reach dangerous active components. Nothing is supplied with the test device for the purpose of resetting it: the instructions recommend using a fine-tipped instrument. If this instrument is made from a conductive material (e.g. paper clip), the user of the baby monitor can come into contact with dangerous voltage levels. The product does not comply with the Low Voltage Directive and with the relevant European standards EN 60950 and EN 61558.
