Risk type Injuries

Risk description The product poses a risk of injuries because: 1. The seatbelt bracket may be incorrectly assembled on the outer side of the single front seat which could prevent the seat belt from protecting the driver in the case of an accident. 2. The left-hand axle stub of the rear axle might detach from the knuckle holder with the result that the axle could separate from its holder, causing the driver to lose control of the vehicle and leading to the risk of a road accident.
