Product description Portable lamp. The plastic housing consists of 3 parts: a black grip, transparent and translucent lampshade, and a black end cap with a hook.

Risk type Electric shock

Legal provisions (at EU level) and European standards against which the product was tested and did not comply

The product poses a risk of electric shock because:

- The mains supply cable is insulated with PVC instead of the standard polychloroprene. Due to aging, environmental, mechanical, chemical or thermal effects the cable insulation is therefore not sufficiently resistant and can become damaged resulting in live parts of the cable becoming accessible.
- The mains supply cable does not have a cord anchorage and therefore is not protected against pulling and twisting which could cause the live cable ends to become accessible. The product does not comply with the Low Voltage Directive (LVD) and the relevant European standard EN 60598.

Risk type Electric shock
Fire

Legal provisions (at EU level) and European standards against which the product was tested and did not comply

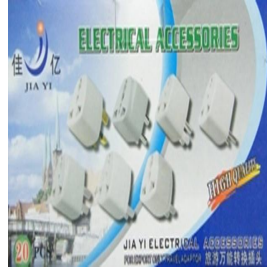

The product poses a risk of electric shock and fire because:

- the dimensions of the built-in plug and the adaptor are not correct;
- the pins of the adaptor are not supplied with insulating sleeves;
- the construction of the pins of the battery charger and the adaptor enables single-pole insertion of the plug, thus during normal use the live parts of the product are accessible;
- the cross-section area of the conductors in the cable is less than required and the internal wires may overheat. The product does not comply with the
